Action & Reaction (Results)

When we perform any action we always expect a result.

The result of any action can be of three types

1. More of what you expected (very happy)
2. As expected (happy)
3. Less of what you expected (very sad)

In Bhagavad Gītā Lord krṣṇa ; कृष्ण teaches:

When doing action you have a choice but not the results
you have no control so

1. You should do the RIGHT action
2. Do the action as best as you can
3. Accept the results gracefully as Prasada from me (God)

Law of कर्म

Unlike animals we have a FREE WILL meaning we have a freedom of choice either to perform a good action or a wrong action.

When We perform a good action (like helping others, not hurting anyone, ...), we collect good points (पुण्य).

When we perform bad actions (like not helping others, hurting others physically, saying bad words etc), we collect bad points (पाप).

Good points results in pleasant situations and bad points result in unpleasant situations.

Everything is God

There is only God but there are different manifestations.

Everything is a form, your language is a form,
namaste is a form, your dress is a form.
We give names to the different form

Unity in Diversity

As you have to take specific medicines for specific ailments. Like that, you have specific prayers for specific occasions. If you have an eye problem, I can invoke God as a Devata presiding over eyes. When we need money we invoke God as a devi presiding over money (Laksmiji). For knowledge we worship God in the form of devi Sarasvati. Similarly when we start something new we want to be successful so we invoke God in form of Lord Ganesha to remove all the obstacles.

God is all knowledge. In a tiny tomatoe seed all knowledge is there that it will grow as a tomatoe plant not an apple tree. Where is this knowledge coming from? God manifests as this knowledge.
