Swami Veditatmananda is one of the most respected teachers of Advaita Vedānta today. Swamiji's simple, loving nature, scholarship, depth of understanding and communication skills have elevated his stature as a revered guru to serious students, householders and sannyāsis alike. Aptly, Pūjya Swami Dayanandaji, before his mahāsamādhi in 2015, passed on the mantle of the U.S. head of Arsha Vidya Pitham to Swami Veditatmanandaji. The depth of Swamiji's wisdom, compassion, and kindness brings great joy to his disciples and to all who come in contact with him.

Chapter 16: Daivāsura – sampat –vibāga-yoga
(Description of Becoming and Unbecoming Dispositions)

In chapter 16, the two dispositions, the daivī and the āsurī are explained further which were mentioned briefly in the ninth chapter. The daivī or divine disposition helps you gain freedom from saṁsarā whereas the āsurī and rākṣasīs dispositions binds you to saṁsarā. In order to cultivate the values that constitute the mind of a person with a spiritual disposition, certain virtues are presented. The qualities and consequences of the āsurī and rākṣasī dispositions are also told in order that we may avoid them.

Talks are in English, and are free of charge
