Brahman is the substratum for all the attributes; yet it has no attributes intrinsically. sarvamātmeti vijñānāditi vedāntaḍiṇḍimah ॥ 91 ॥

The enlightened person is not tormented whether he/she is engaged in actions or not. This is so because declares Vedanta, he/she has firm knowledge that everything is the ātman alone kuto'dhiṣṭhānamatyacchamiti vedāntaḍiṇḍimah ॥ 92 ॥

Action cannot on its own taint even the reflection (of awareness in the mind, namely the witness), which is but a limiting adjunct. Where is the question of the action tainting the substratum, the Awareness, demands Vedanta.

śrūyatām brāhmaṇaiḥ śrīmaddakṣiṇāmūrtyanugrahāt ॥ 94 ॥

The followers of the Vedas come to listen to the drumbeat of Vedanta by the grace of the Lord Dakshinamurti. This sound is frightening to those who argue against the vision of Vedanta.
